

New High Adventure Opportunity!

Philmont Scout Ranch, in partnership with the Rocky Mountain Elk Foundation, will be offering a new and exciting high adventure opportunity for the summer of 2004. This experience will be offered at the Double H Ranch located in south central New Mexico. Crews will participate in a pristine wilderness environment at elevations over 7,000 feet on a seven day trek.

If you and your Boy Scout troop, Varsity team, or Venturing crew are looking for a unique backpacking experience, make sure you are part of the inaugural year of the Double H High Adventure Base.

Highlights

- Located between Datil and Magdalena New Mexico, 2 hours south of Albuquerque, off US Highway 60
- Season will run from June 21st through August 2nd
- Seven Day 50-60 mile trek, utilizing Leave-No-Trace principles
- Over 100,000 acres of rugged terrain to explore
- Visit the National Radio Astronomy Observatory, known as VLA (Very Large Array)
- Observe elk, mule deer, bear, and other wildlife
- Participate in exciting backcountry programs that include state of the art black powder, astronomy, challenge events, geo-caching, and land navigation
- Learn about the Native American culture found in the area
- Projects to assist the Rocky Mt. Elk Foundation in fulfillment of their conservation plan

For more on this exciting opportunity and reservation information:

doubleh@philmontscoutranch.org or 505-376-2281